Value-added tax (VAT) is a form of consumption tax. From the perspective of the buyer, it is a tax on the purchase price. From that of the seller, it is a tax only on the "value added" to a product, material or service, from an accounting point of view, by this stage of its manufacture or distribution. Only Indirect Taxes relating to which returns are filed with the state and central government need to be included for the company as a whole.

This ratio expresses the relationship between "value addition" meaning the difference between the net output value (net sales adjusted for work-in-progress and finished goods stock) and cost of bought out materials and services for the product under reference to revenue or sales
