(4) In case any subscriber receives unsolicited commercial communication after expiry of seven days from the date of his registration in the Provider Customer Preference Register under sub-regulation (1) of regulation 7, he may make a complaint to his Access Provider, through voice call or SMS, mentioning therein the particulars of telemarketer, the telephone number from which the unsolicited commercial communication originated, the date, time and brief description of such unsolicited commercial communication as specified in Schedule VI to these regulations:

Provided that every such complaint shall be made by a subscriber within three days of receipt of the unsolicited commercial communication.

(5) On receipt of a complaint under sub-regulation (4), the Terminating Access Provider shall,-

(a) immediately acknowledge the complaint by providing a unique complaint number;

(b) verify whether, at the time of complaint, a period of seven days has expired from the date of registration of the subscriber in the Provider Customer Preference Register;

(c) verify the correctness of the complaint as per the available Call Detail Record (CDR); and

(d) complete the steps at (b) and (c) within seventy two hours from receipt of the complaint.

(6) If, on verification, the complaint is found to be correct, the Terminating Access Provider shall, within seventy two hours of the receipt of the complaint, forward the complaint, under simultaneous transmission to the National Telemarketer Register, to the Originating Access Provider from whose network such unsolicited commercial communication has originated.

(7) In case, on verification, the Terminating Access Provider finds that no such unsolicited commercial communication has been made to the complainant, he shall inform the complainant accordingly.

(8) The Originating Access Provider, to whom the complaint has been forwarded, shall within seventy two hours of the receipt of the complaint by it, investigate the nature of call or SMS and if after such investigation, it finds that such call or SMS is an unsolicited commercial communication-

(a) issue a notice to the telemarketer, forwarding the detail of the unsolicited commercial communication made by him and informing him of the deduction from the security deposit of an amount as agreed upon in terms of Schedule IV or Schedule V to these regulations;

(b) intimate, the result of the investigation and the action taken by it on the basis of the complaint, to the Terminating Access Provider which forwarded the complaint;

(c) deposit the amount so deducted in an account specified by the Authority; and

(d) update the action taken by it in the National Telemarketer register.

(9) The Terminating Access Provider shall, upon receipt of the intimation from the Originating Access Provider under sub-regulation (8), intimate to the complainant, within twenty four hours, the result of the investigation and the action taken by the Originating Access Provider on his complaint.

(10) Notwithstanding any delay on the part of the Terminating Access Provider to forward the complaint, as stipulated in the sub regulation (6), to the Originating Access Provider, it shall be incumbent upon the Originating Access Provider to take action on such complaint in accordance with the provisions of sub-regulation (8).

(11) In case the Originating Access Provider to whom a complaint has been forwarded under sub-regulation (6) finds that the unsolicited commercial communication originated from a subscriber who is not registered with the Authority as a telemarketer, it shall issue a notice to such subscriber to forthwith discontinue the sending of such unsolicited commercial communications and if such subscriber sends a commercial communication to any subscriber on a second occasion, disconnect the telecom resources of such subscriber.

CHAPTER V
OBLIGATIONS OF THE ACCESS PROVIDERS

20. OBLIGATIONS OF THE ACCESS PROVIDERS:-

(1) Every Access Provider shall ensure that all commercial communications originating from its network are managed in accordance with these regulations.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the provisions of sub-regulation (1),

(a) every Originating Access Provider shall ensure that no telecom resource is provided to a telemarketer unless has registered itself with the Authority and has entered into an agreement with Originating Access Provider, in accordance with the provisions in Schedule IV to these regulations;

(b) every Originating Access Provider shall, before allotting telecom resources to a telemarketer for sending Transactional Message, enter into agreement with such person in accordance with the procedure specified in Schedule V to these regulations and ensure that no telemarketing SMS is sent through the telecom resources allotted for sending Transactional Message;

(c) every Originating Access Provider shall provide separate telecom resources to telemarketers, for sending transactional message and promotional messages;

(d) every Originating Access Provider shall ensure that the telecom resources provided for sending transactional message are not used for sending promotional message;

(e) every Originating Access Provider shall ensure use of correct header for sending commercial or transactional message, as the case may be, in accordance with the agreement entered into by the Originating Access Provider with the sender of commercial or transactional message, as referred
(f) Every Access Provider shall ensure that a telemarketer shall, before sending any SMS to a telecom subscriber, scrub the telephone number of the subscriber with the database received from National Customer preference register;

(g) every Originating Access Provider shall ensure that no telemarketing SMS, other than SMS opted by the subscriber is sent to him;

(h) every Originating Access Provider shall filter all voice calls received through the telecom resources allocated to the telemarketers to ensure that no commercial voice call is made to any subscriber, registered with the National Customer Preference Register.

(i) every Originating Access Provider shall filter all promotional SMS received through the telecom resources allocated to the telemarketers to ensure that only promotional SMSs, preferred by a customer in his preference registered with the National Customer Preference Register, are sent to him;

(j) every Access Provider shall ensure that commercial communication including SMS is sent to a customer, in accordance with the provisions of these regulations, only between 0900 Hrs to 2100 Hrs;

Explanatory Memorandum

1. Unsolicited Commercial Communications (UCC) are a major cause of disturbance and inconvenience for telecom users in recent times. These communications invade the privacy of individuals. With growth in telecom services in the country and fall in telecom tariffs, telecommunications is now increasingly being used as a tool to advertise and market various products. TRAI has been receiving for some time now, complaints from telecom customers on the subject of UCC. In order to curb Unsolicited Commercial Communications, the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) notified the Telecom Unsolicited Commercial Communications Regulations, 2007 dated 5th June, 2007, which put in place a framework for controlling unsolicited commercial communications. It envisaged establishment of a National Do Not Call (NDNC) Registry to facilitate registration of requests from customers who do not wish to receive UCC. To improve the effectiveness of the framework, the Authority had subsequently amended these regulations by issue of the Telecom Unsolicited Commercial Communications (Amendment) Regulations, 2008 (1 of 2008) dated 17th March, 2008 and had imposed financial disincentives for non-compliance of regulatory provisions by the telecom service providers. The principal regulations were further amended by the Telecom Unsolicited Commercial Communications (Second Amendment) Regulations, 2008 dated 21st October, 2008, simplifying the customer enrolment process, smoothening the system for redressal of complaints related to UCC and imposing financial disincentives on Access Providers for non-compliance with regulatory provisions.
2. Despite various measures taken by the Authority for curbing Unsolicited Commercial Communications, dissatisfaction on this account among telecom customers continues. Although the number of unsolicited commercial voice calls has decreased to some extent, the number of unsolicited SMS has increased. Till March 2010, a total of 3,40,231 complaints regarding receipt of unsolicited calls and SMS have been received. About 65,000 complaints are received every month. This is just the tip of the iceberg as many customers do not lodge UCC complaints. Overall, there is every indication that the framework that has been put in place to curb UCC has been less than effective and needs revision.

3. With rapid growth in telemarketing activity in the country, the problem has also grown in dimension. As per a recent study by Ernst and Young, India’s BPO market was about USD 1.6 billion in 2008, and with a CAGR of 38%, is expected to reach USD 6 billion in FY 2012, with a maximum addressable opportunity of USD 16-19 billion. Customer interactive services, including sales and marketing contribute about 70% to domestic BPO revenues. The sector employ about 7,00,000 persons.

4. The Authority initiated the consultation process and issued a Consultation Paper on “Review of Telecom Unsolicited Commercial Communications Regulations” on 11th May, 2010. Comments were received from 342 stakeholders and Open House Discussions was held in Delhi in August, 2010. The Authority also held further consultations with Access Providers, aggregators, and telemarketers to explore various possible options to effectively control Unsolicited Commercial Communications.

5. The major issues impacting the effectiveness of existing regulations, as highlighted by stakeholders, during the consultation process, are summarized below:

(i) The registration process for telemarketers is complicated and unfriendly; as a result there are a large number of unregistered telemarketers. The present framework envisages registration of telemarketers through the NDNC Registry, but payment of registration fee and issue of registration certificate is manual. The process is cumbersome and inconvenient and takes a lot of time, discouraging telemarketers from registering themselves.

(ii) The existing National Do Not Call Registry has prescribed a maximum limit on telephone numbers that can be scrubbed in a day which is too low. The amount of time taken to return the scrubbed list of numbers is also high. The limited scrubbing capabilities provided by the NDNC registry impact the business model of telemarketers and this encourages them to use unscrubbed lists of telephone numbers.

(iii) Identification of defaulters depends on the customer complaints. Customers are not coming forward to complain about violation of the regulations due to ineffective complaint redressal by their Access Providers. The analysis of the available data indicates that percentage of subscribers making complaints regarding unsolicited commercial communications is very low. This has adversely impacted the identification of those telemarketers who flout the norms.

(iv) Existing provisions to ensure compliance are not strong enough to create a deterrent against violation of the regulations. The present framework prescribing higher tariff of Rs.500/- in first instance and Rs.1000/- in second instance for making unsolicited commercial communication is not a sufficient deterrent, especially due to very limited complaints registered by subscribers.

(v) Disconnection of telecom resources is not an effective deterrent as the defaulting telemarketer can take telecom resources from other service providers. There is no provision for effectively blacklisting such telemarketers to restrict provision of telecom resources to them.

(vi) The present framework largely depends on proper functioning and adherence to the prescribed procedure by telemarketers. Only minimal checks and balances have been prescribed. No framework has been prescribed to control telemarketing calls / SMSs by the Access Providers before delivery to customers registered on NDNC.

(vii) There is a lack of awareness among customers about the facility for registering their telephone number in the National Do Not Call Register.

6. In view of above, stakeholders expressed the view that there is a need to replace the present regulatory framework with one which facilitates easy registration of telemarketers, builds in flexibility for scrubbing by telemarketers, ensures adequate defensive mechanisms to auto-stop delivery of UCC to customers who do not want such messages, and provides for effective enforcement of regulations.
7. The object of this regulation is to provide an effective mechanism for curbing Unsolicited Commercial Communications. The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 have been framed keeping in view the interest of the customers and telemarketers while ensuring effective implementation. The main features of the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 are as follows:

(i) Options to customer to exercise his preference
(ii) A simple and easy procedure for exercising option by the customer
(iii) Easy registration of the telemarketer with effective identification
(iv) Sharing of National Customer Preference Register with service providers and telemarketers so that telephone databases can be effectively scrubbed before initiating telemarketing activities
(v) Filtering and auto-blocking of calls and SMS to customers according to their options, if any
(vi) Disconnection of telecom resources of defaulting telemarketers and blacklisting to ensure that they do not get any telecom resources from any other access provider
(vii) Adequate provision to effectively implement the provisions of the Regulations

8. The consultation paper deliberated the option of adopting a Do Call Registry to control UCC. While some consumer organizations and individuals advocated the adoption of a Do Call Registry, most of the telemarketers and service providers and even some individuals, have opposed the concept of a Do Call Registry. While the former group felt that the responsibility to restrict unsolicited calls should not be placed on the customer (as is the case in the present system), the latter group pointed out that the implementation of a Do Call Registry would in the first instance, bring all telemarketing activity to a halt, thereby jeopardizing the business and employment of lakh of young workers and hundreds of small entrepreneurs. An important theme of the deliberations in the open house discussions was the need to provide options to customers to exercise their preference. Accordingly, the Authority with due regard to the rights of the customers to exercise preference, has decided to provide a mix of Do call and Do not call options to the customers within the new framework. Regulation 7 provides options to customers to register to receive SMS from specified category or categories or not to receive any commercial communication. The customer can opt to block all commercial communication or can selectively block SMS from specified categories or can continue to get all calls/ SMS. The regulations also lay down a separate number series for telemarketers for voice calls; this will facilitate easy identification of telemarketing voice calls by customers receiving such calls.

9. The consultation paper also highlighted the issue of low registration of customers on the NDNC registry. One of the major reasons is the long time taken for registration in the NDNC (45 days). Stakeholders have suggested further simplification of the registration mechanism. These regulations provide for registration of customers preferences using voice call or SMS on 1909. It has been mandated that all access providers shall intimate the registration number to customers by SMS within 24 hours. These regulations provide that the time taken for effecting registration of the telecom customers on the National Customer Preference Register shall be reduced to 7 days instead of 45 days at present. A detailed procedure has been specified to ensure that customer’s preference becomes effective within 7 days time. Efforts will be made to further reduce this time period in due course.

10. Unsolicited Commercial Communications are found to be originating from both registered and unregistered telemarketers. A large number of telemarketers including direct sales agents (DSAs) are not registered with Department of Telecommunications (DoT). Stakeholders pointed out that lengthy and complicated procedure for telemarketers to register with the DoT is one of the reasons for low registration of telemarketers. Difficulties faced by the telemarketers in registration were also highlighted during open house discussions. As per the telemarketers, the registration IDs often do not get verified within the prescribed period of 90 days resulting in deactivation of their IDs based on which they scrub telephone numbers on the NDNC. In such cases, the whole process has to be started again. It was also pointed out that if for any reason, the telemarketer’s application is rejected within 90 days there is no mechanism for intimating the telemarketer regarding the same. This denies the telemarketers’ access to the NDNC for scrubbing, forcing them to send UCC without scrubbing. The Regulations provide for a simplified registration process for telemarketers including online registration. Accordingly, provisions have been made in Regulation 14 that all the telemarketers will now be registered with TRAI through website www.nccptrai.gov.in In order to identify the telemarketer, unique identification information such as PAN and/or TAN is added in the online application form.
On successful submission of the application form online, a unique application number will be generated. Telemarketers will have the option of payment of fee either online or offline and will be given a unique registration number after payment is successfully made.

11. Stakeholders also pointed out the need to effectively control telemarketers. It emerged that the framework in the 2007 regulations to impose higher tariff for default by telemarketers, has not worked effectively. Stakeholders were of the view that existing penal provisions on telemarketers should be enhanced manifold. In order to ensure effective control, these regulations mandate all telemarketers to enter into an agreement with the Access Providers before any telecom resources are allocated to them. A security deposit will be collected from each telemarketer by Access Providers from which amount for default or contravention of regulations will be deducted. Telemarketers have to deposit additional security deposits as per the provisions in the regulations based on number of defaults or contraventions. The regulations also mandate that all telecom resources shall be disconnected at the sixth violation. These measures are expected to inculcate a greater sense of responsibility among the telemarketers.

12. Stakeholders were of the view that currently disconnection of telecom resources of telemarketers is not effective in controlling UCC, as the defaulting telemarketer can again take telecom resources from another access provider. In order to ensure that telemarketers follow the regulatory framework to control UCC, provisions have been made in the regulations to create a black list of telemarketers whose telephone connections or services have been disconnected for violation of the regulations so that a disconnected telemarketer is not able to take connections or services or telecom resources from any other access provider. For this purpose the PAN and /or TAN number is being captured during the registration of Telemarketer. The blacklisted Telemarketers will be identified through their PAN and/or TAN number. Further, access providers shall ensure that no telecom resources are allotted to such blacklisted telemarketers. Blacklisting shall be valid for a period of two years counted from the date of the disconnection of telecom resource and blacklisted companies, individuals and entities will not be provided any telecom resources across the country during this period.

13. The issue related to limited scrubbing facility provided by NDNC in existing framework was discussed in detail during open house discussions and meetings with various stakeholders. Many stakeholders expressed the view that the list of customers registered on NDNC should be shared with them so that they could use their own scrubbing facility. They were of the view that effectiveness of the framework can be increased if the scrubbing process is decentralized and telemarketers are permitted to make their own arrangements to scrub. Accordingly, provisions have been made in the regulations to simplify the scrubbing process. All telemarketers and Access Providers will be permitted to download the complete National Customer Preference (NCP) data from the NCPR website for which a unique user name and password will be provided.
14. Stakeholders also pointed out exponential increase in unsolicited commercial communications through SMS and desired effective measures to control unsolicited SMS. In this regard, it is noted that telemarketers buy bulk SMS from Access Providers at nominal cost and send these SMS to customers. In many cases, telemarketers hire leased lines to push SMSs to customers. Customers who are registered with the NDNC Registry also receive such SMS. A need was therefore felt to explore possibilities to modify the existing regulatory framework or to bring in a new regulatory framework to effectively control Unsolicited Commercial Communications.

15. The question of blocking by the service provider an unsolicited commercial communication sent by the telemarketer to customer registered on NCPR was also discussed during the consultation process. Mixed views were expressed. While one set of service providers have opined that filtering of calls and SMS may increase the load on the system and may be difficult to implement, others feel that technical solutions can be worked out to effectively block unsolicited commercial SMS. They felt that the unsolicited commercial calls can also be blocked automatically if an identified number series is given to each service provider. During consultations, some stakeholders suggested that a separate series of numbers could be allotted for telemarketers so that customers could identify a call coming from a telemarketer. The matter was taken up with the Department of Telecommunications and a separate number series has been obtained for telemarketing purposes from mobile number series, out of which service providers can allot numbers to their telemarketers for making voice calls. Further analysis revealed that technical solutions are available to effectively control unsolicited commercial SMSs. Accordingly, provisions have been made such that all telemarketers ensure scrubbing of numbers using their own arrangement and all Access Providers ensure filtering of unsolicited commercial calls and SMS so that no call or SMS is sent to any customer registered on NCPR unless he has opted for it.

16. Stakeholders have also highlighted the need to define UCC so that it is clear what messages will be considered as unsolicited. They have given certain examples in which indirect consent of the customer is implicit in what might otherwise be classed as UCC, and wanted clarity in the matter. The Authority has considered the issue raised and has separately defined the framework for transactional messages so that there is no ambiguity. The regulations provide a well-defined process for sending transactional messages through separate telecom resources dedicated for the purpose by Access Providers. The SMS header has also been standardized to clearly indicate the nature of the message.

17. In order to facilitate options for receiving SMS of predefined category or categories by customers, the regulations also define the structure of header. Customers can identify promotional SMS just by looking at the SMS header. This will reduce the inconvenience of even those customers who are not registered on the NCPR.

18. The Authority is also aware that unsolicited commercial communications can be/are being sent by unregistered telemarketers. Such messages can be sent by any person and they are essentially in the category of P2P communications. However, in order to curb such messages, the Authority has decided that no Access Providers shall provide any SMS packages in any form (through voucher, student pack, seasonal pack etc) permitting sending of more than 100 SMS per day per SIM except on blackout days or days specially notified by TRAI. Any such package already in use shall be withdrawn w.e.f 31.12.2010. Provisions have also been made to disconnect the telecom resources after giving a notice if it is found that telemarketing activities are being done form the unregistered telemarketer.

19. During the consultation process, some stakeholders expressed the view that imposition of a termination charge on commercial SMSs could prove to be an effective deterrent to the indiscriminate use of SMS for commercial communications. The Authority has deliberated this point, but has felt that prescription of a termination charge basically falls within the purview of the interconnection regime and should be taken up as a separate exercise as and when the interconnection usage charge regulations are reviewed.

20. Stakeholders have also pointed out that complaint redressal mechanism is not effective and customers get no feedback on the complaints registered by them. They are of the view that customers may be informed about the action taken on their complaints. This will encourage customers to register complaints in case of violation of regulatory provisions. The Authority is concerned with effective redressal of customer complaints relating to UCC and has prescribed a framework in which action is taken within seven days of lodging the complaint and the customer is informed about the action taken.

Explanatory Memorandum

The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India issued the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulation, 2010 (6 of 2010) dated the 1st December, 2010 to provide an effective mechanism for curbing unsolicited commercial communications. Regulation 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17 of the regulations were required to be implemented with effect from the 15th day of December, 2010, while regulation 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22 were required to be implemented with effect from the 1st day of January, 2011.

2. Having regard to the aspect of security audit of the website to be created for the purpose of these regulations and the other processes involved, the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India has found it necessary to re-determine the dates for implementation of the aforesaid regulations. Accordingly, clause (b) and clause (c) of sub-regulation (2) of regulation 1 and clause (b) and clause (c) of regulation 25 of the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 (6 of 2010) dated the 1st December, 2010 have been amended on 14th December, 2010 and on 28th December, 2010. After these amendments, Regulation 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17 of the regulations were required to be implemented with effect from the 15th day of January, 2011, while regulation 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22 were required to be implemented with effect from the 1st day of February, 2011.

3. As per the DoT letter No. 16-5/2009-AS.III/(pt.)/(3)/1124 dated 18.10.2010, a separate number series starting with ‘70’ level has been allocated for telemarketing purpose. This series was to be used for both mobile as well as basic service. Accordingly provisions has been made in the regulations. However, DoT has issued a letter vide No. 16-5/2009-AS.III/(Vol. IV) dated 31st January, 2011 stating that in order to have better utilization of number series starting with ‘70’, new level starting with digits ‘140’ has been allocated now for mobile network for telemarkters. The levels allocated are only for mobile services of the licenses. Same numbering scheme can not be used for both for basic and mobile services as per the notification of DoT. Levels for basic services will be allocated after resolving the issue of CLI for telemarketing operations using basic services. This new series will be required to be implemented by all access service providers before allocation of resources to telemarketer. For this purpose time will be required by access providers to change the configuration in their system and testing of new series.

4. As per the existing provisions under sub-regulation 11 of regulation 17, Access providers have to withdraw the telecom resources already allotted to a telemarketer by 15\textsuperscript{th} February, 2011. Regulation 17 has come into force from 15\textsuperscript{th} January, 2011 and service providers may have allotted the new resources as per the provisions of these regulation. However, various provisions of Telecom Unsolicited Commercial Communications Regulations, 2007 (4 of 2007) have been continued upto 1\textsuperscript{st} March 2011 under these regulations, for which, telemarketer may required the existing resources to comply with it. Therefore, sub-regulation 11 of regulation 17 has been amended accordingly.

Explanatory Memorandum

The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India issued the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulation, 2010 (6 of 2010) dated the 1st December, 2010 to provide an effective mechanism for curbing unsolicited commercial communications. Regulation 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17 of the regulations were implemented with effect from the 15th day of January, 2011, while regulation 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 were implemented with effect from the 10th day of the February, 2011.

2. DoT vide letter No. 16-5/2009-AS.III/(Vol. IV) dated 31st January, 2011 has provided ‘140’ number series to be allocated to telemarketers for mobile network. However, number series for fixed network are still not allocated. The matter has been taken up on urgent basis to allocate number series to telemarketers for fixed network. Access Providers have indicated that it will not be possible to provide all the resources to call centres from mobile network only due to high traffic originated from such call centres. It is expected that number series for telemarketing activities from fixed network will be allocated by DoT shortly. This new series will be required to be implemented by all Access Providers before allocation of resources to telemarketer. For this purpose time will be required by Access Providers to change the configuration in their system and test the new series. Accordingly, relevant clauses of The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 (6 of 2010) have been amended.

Explanatory Memorandum

The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India issued the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulation, 2010 (6 of 2010) dated the 1st December, 2010 to provide an effective mechanism for curbing unsolicited commercial communications. Regulation 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17 of the regulations were implemented with effect from the 15th day of January, 2011, while regulation 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 were implemented with effect from the 10th day of the February, 2011.

2. DoT vide letter No. 16-5/2009-AS.III/(Vol. IV) dated 31st January, 2011 has provided ‘140’ number series to be allocated to telemarketers for mobile network. However, number series for fixed network are still not allocated. The matter has been taken up on urgent basis to allocate number series to telemarketers for fixed network. Access Providers have indicated that it will not be possible to provide all the resources to call centres from mobile network only due to high traffic originated from such call centres. Due to non availability of numbering resources from fixed line network from DoT date of implementation of relevant clauses of The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 has been extended upto 21st March, 2011 through the forth amendment to the regulations on 28th February, 2011. However, till date DoT has not allocated the numbering resources for telemarketers from fixed line network. This new numbering series will be required to be implemented by all Access Providers before allocation of resources to telemarketer. For this purpose time will be required by Access Providers to change the configuration in their system and test the new series. No time frame has been specified by DoT as of now. Accordingly, relevant clauses of The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 (6 of 2010) dated the 1st December, 2010 have been amended.

Explanatory Memorandum

The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India issued the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulation, 2010 (6 of 2010) dated the 1st December, 2010 to provide an effective mechanism for curbing unsolicited commercial communications. Regulation 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17 of the regulations were implemented with effect from the 15th day of January, 2011, while regulation 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 were implemented with effect from the 10th day of the February, 2011. Regulation 12, 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22 of these regulations were to be implemented, from a date to be notified by the Authority.

2. DoT vide letter No. 16-5/2009-AS.III/(Vol. IV) dated 31st January, 2011 had provided ‘140’ number series to be allocated to telemarketers for mobile network. However, number series for fixed network was not allocated. Due to non-availability of numbering resources from fixed line network, date of implementation of relevant clauses of The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 was amended to be effective from a date to be specified by the Authority. Now, DoT vide letter no. 16-5/2009-AS.III/Vol. IV dated 16th August 2011 has provided ‘140’ number series to be allocated to telemarketers for fixed line network. Access Providers have to make relevant provisions in their network before allocation of resources to telemarketers using ‘140’ numbering series from fixed line network. Accordingly, relevant clauses of regulations has been amended and the regulations are being implemented from 27th September, 2011.

3. The Authority also considered the need to modify the definition of the transactional messages considering the practical aspect of business. Accordingly the Authority has made certain changes in definition of Transactional message.

4. The need to send SMSs in public interest by the Authorities established under the Constitution was also considered. Accordingly, any message transmitted by or on the directions of the Authority established under the Constitution or Telecom Regulatory of India (TRAI) or agencies authorized by the Authority has been exempted from the definition of Unsolicited Commercial Communications.

5. As per the existing provisions of regulations, a customer after registering or changing his preference in NCPR cannot change it before a period of three months. In order to provide flexibility to a customer to change his preference, the existing restriction of three months has been reduced to seven days.

6. In order to ensure smooth flow of the transactional messages without any restrictions as specified for commercial communications, the relevant clauses of regulation have been amended.

7. The Authority also considered the operational requirements of certain categories for sending non-commercial SMS in excess of one hundred SMS per SIM per day. Accordingly necessary provision has been made.

Note 8: The Explanatory Memorandum explains the objects and reasons of Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Seventh Amendment) Regulations, 2011 (6 of 2011).
1. The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India made the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulation, 2010 (6 of 2010) (hereinafter referred to as the principal regulations) dated the 1st December, 2010 to provide an effective mechanism for curbing unsolicited commercial communications.

2. The principal regulations provide a framework for sending of transactional messages, wherein an entity can only send a Transactional message through a telemarketer registered with TRAI. TRAI received several representations from customers and other organizations stating that Transactional messages are generally informative in nature and, therefore, the provisions of the principal regulations permitting the sending of Transactional messages only through registered telemarketers may be amended so as to allow such entities to send the Transactional messages directly without registering as a telemarketer. The Authority has considered these representations and has amended the principal regulations accordingly, by inserting regulation 16A in the principal regulations. However, to ensure that sending of Transactional messages by such entities is effectively regulated, the Authority has decided to amend sub-regulation (4) of regulation 17 of the principal regulations making it mandatory for the Transactional message sending entity to enter into an agreement with the Access Provider, as specified in Schedule –V of the principal regulations.
regulations, for obtaining the telecom resources for the said purpose.

3. The Authority has also made amendments in clause (k) of sub-regulation (2) of regulation 20 of the principal regulations by inserting the words, “or an entity sending transactional message”, thus permitting the Access Provider to provide to such entity any SMS package or tariff plan permitting sending more than 100 SMS per day per SIM.

4. Clause (ka) of sub-regulation (2) of regulation 20 of the principal regulations provides that no Access Provider shall permit sending of more than one hundred SMS per day per SIM. As the requirement of telemarketer and the entity sending the Transactional message is more than the limit of one hundred SMS per day per SIM provided under said clause (ka), the Authority has decided to add a proviso to the said clause thereby exempting the telemarketer and the entity sending the Transactional message from the said limit.

5. Representations were also received from some service providers requesting the Authority to permit them to send Transactional messages directly to their employees through their own network and resources. Accordingly, a proviso has been added to sub-regulation (4) of regulation 17 of the principal regulations.

6. The principal regulation had prescribed a format for lodging a complaint of Unsolicited Commercial Communications (UCC) by sending an SMS. This format of SMS should contain telephone number from which the UCC was received, date of the call or SMS and time of call or SMS. However, it has come to the notice of the Authority that to ascertain that the complaint is regarding a UCC, the Access Provider needs to know the content of the message. To resolve the issue and to streamline the lodging and redressal of the complaint, the Authority has decided to add a brief description of UCC into the SMS format specified in schedule VI.

7. During the consultation process, relating to the principal regulations, several stakeholders expressed a view that imposition of a termination charge on commercial SMSs would be an effective deterrent to the sending of promotional SMSs. The Authority, at the time of issuing the principal regulations, felt that imposition of a termination charge was in the realm of Interconnect Usage charge (IUC). During the consultation process on IUC, while there was wide support for imposing a charge to deal with the menace of unsolicited commercial communications, particularly SMSs, an alternative view was that imposition of termination charge has to be cost based. The Authority found that promotional SMSs are being sent largely by the telemarketers. In order to deter private persons from sending the promotional SMS, the Authority has already imposed the limit of 100 SMS per SIM per day. But in case of telemarketers, there is a tendency to dump the promotional SMSs, resulting in inconvenience to consumers as well as networks.
8. After careful consideration of the above factors, the Authority felt the need to impose a promotional SMS charge. Accordingly a provision has been made for promotional SMS charge of Re 0.05 sent by registered telemarketer.

Explanatory Memorandum

1. The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India made the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulation, 2010 (6 of 2010) (hereinafter referred to as the principal regulations) dated the 1st December, 2010 to provide an effective mechanism for curbing unsolicited commercial communications.

2. The principal regulations provide a restriction on providing any SMS package or tariff plan permitting sending more than 100 SMS per day per SIM except for telemarketer or entity sending transactional messages. Principal regulation also provides that no Access Provider shall permit sending of more than one hundred SMS per day per SIM except a telemarketer or transactional message sending entity. The Authority has received representations from some of the service providers and consumers requesting that the limit of one hundred SMS per day per SIM may be increased. The Authority has considered these representations and decided to increase the limit of one hundred SMS per day per SIM to two hundred SMS per day per SIM to facilitate such customers. Accordingly, the Authority has amended clause (k), (ka) and (kb) of sub-regulation (2) of regulation 20 of the principal regulation.
No.305-24/2011-QoS(SP)- In exercise of powers conferred by section 36, read with sub-clause(v) of clause (b) and clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 11 of the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India Act, 1997 (24 of 1997), the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India hereby makes the following regulations, namely:-

1. (1) These regulations may be called the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Ninth Amendment) Regulations, 2012.

(2) They shall come into force from the date of their publication in the official Gazette.

2. In regulation 18 of the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 (6 of 2010), after sub-regulation (5), the following proviso shall be inserted, namely:-

“Provided that in case the telemarketer is blacklisted for sending unsolicited commercial communications through the telecom resources allotted to it for sending promotional messages, the telecom resources provided to it for sending promotional messages shall only be disconnected;

Provided further that in case the telemarketer is blacklisted for sending unsolicited commercial communications through the telecom resources allotted to it for sending transactional messages, the telecom resources provided to it for sending transactional messages and promotional messages shall be disconnected.”

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India made the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulation, 2010 (6 of 2010) (hereinafter referred to as the principal regulations) dated the 1st December, 2010 to provide an effective mechanism for curbing unsolicited commercial communications. All the provisions of regulations came into force from 27th September 2011.

2. The principal regulations provide that every Access Provider shall provide separate telecom resources, for sending transactional message and promotional messages and has to enter into separate agreements before providing promotional or transactional resources in accordance with Schedule-IV and Schedule-V of the principal regulations, respectively.

3. The principal regulations also provide that in case of receipt of a complaint regarding the receipt of Unsolicited Commercial Communication by a subscriber who is registered on National Customer Preference Register (NCPR), the originating access provider shall issue a notice to the concerned telemarketer, forwarding the detail of the UCC made by him and informing him of the deduction made from the security deposit of an amount as agreed upon in terms of Schedule IV or Schedule V to the principal regulations and upon service of the sixth notice in a calendar year by any Access Provider on a telemarketer for sending UCC, the name of such telemarketer will be entered into the blacklist for two years. Once a telemarketer is blacklisted, every Access Provider shall disconnect the telecom resources provided by it under the regulations to such telemarketer.

4. With regards to the importance of transactional messages to the telecom consumers, the Authority considered that in case a telemarketer is blacklisted for sending Unsolicited
Commercial Communications through promotional resources, the disconnection of all the resources procured by him from Access Providers including the transactional resources would cause inconvenience to the consumers. However, in case the transactional pipe is misused to send promotional messages, the telecom resources of the telemarketer for both the promotional messages and transactional messages shall be disconnected. Whenever a telemarketer is blacklisted for sending Unsolicited Commercial Communications either through promotional resources or through transactional resources, it will not get any telecom resources under these regulations for the period of blacklisting. Accordingly, the Authority has amended sub-regulation (5) of regulation 18 of the principal regulations.

TELECOM REGULATORY AUTHORITY OF INDIA

NOTIFICATION

New Delhi, the 5th November, 2012

THE TELECOM COMMERCIAL COMMUNICATIONS CUSTOMER PREFERENCE (TENTH AMENDMENT) REGULATIONS, 2012

(23 OF 2012)

No. 311-13/2012-QoS- In exercise of powers conferred by section 36, read with sub-clause (v) of clause (b) and clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 11 of the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India Act, 1997 (24 of 1997), the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India hereby makes the following regulations to further amend the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 (6 of 2010), namely:-

1. (1) These regulations may be called the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Tenth Amendment) Regulations, 2012.
(2) They shall come into force from the date of their publication in the official Gazette.

2. In regulation 2 of the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 (6 of 2010) (hereinafter referred to as the principal regulations), after the clause (v), the following clause shall be inserted, namely:

“(va) “signature” means contents of commercial communications having same or similar characters or strings or variants thereof, but does not include subscriber related information.”

3. In regulation 3 of principal regulations, in sub-regulation (4), for the second proviso, the following proviso shall be substituted, namely:

“Provided further that every Access Provider shall, after one month of coming into force of these regulations, at the time of providing a telephone connection, whether Basic Telephone Service or Cellular Mobile Telephone Service, to a new subscriber, other than a telemarketer registered with the Authority, provide in the Customer Acquisition Form the details of Customer Preference Registration facility and obtain from such subscriber an undertaking that the SIM or connection purchased by him shall not be used for telemarketing and in case such SIM or connection is used for telemarketing, the telecom resources used for the purpose of telemarketing shall be liable to be disconnected.”

4. In regulation 19 of the principal regulations, in sub-regulation (4), for the words “the date, time and brief description”, the words “the date and description” shall be substituted.

5. In regulation 20 of the principal regulations, in sub-regulation (2),---

(a) for clause (k), the following clause shall be substituted, namely:-

“(k) no Access Provider shall, after fifteen days of coming into force of these regulations, permit any person, other than a telemarketer registered under regulation 14 or an entity sending transactional message, to send more than one hundred SMS per day per SIM at a rate lower than the rate specified in Schedule-XIII of the Telecommunication Tariff Order, 1999;”

(b) after clause (l), the following clauses shall be inserted, namely:-

“(m) every Access Provider shall, within fifteen days of coming into force of these regulations, send an SMS to its subscribers advising them not to send any commercial communications if they are not registered with the Authority as telemarketer, as sending of commercial communication shall result in disconnection of resources:

Provided that the Access Provider shall send a second such SMS within fifteen days of sending of the first SMS and thereafter repeat sending of such SMS to the subscriber every six months;

(n) every Access Provider shall, after three months of coming into force of these regulations, ensure that no SMS, having similar signature, from any source or number originating more than two hundred such SMSs per hour, is delivered through its network:

Provided that nothing contained under this clause shall apply to a telemarketer registered under regulation 14 or a transactional message sending entity or the telephone number exempted by the Authority, by direction, from time to time;

(o) every Access provider shall, within forty-five days of coming into force of these regulations, establish a ‘web based unsolicited commercial communication complaint lodging system’ and a dedicated email address to enable the consumers to lodge Unsolicited Commercial Communications related complaints.”

6. In Schedule-V to the principal regulations, in para (13) of the agreement, after the words “from NTR”, the words “or by TRAI” shall be inserted.

7. In Schedule-VI to the principal regulations, for para 4, the following para shall be substituted, namely:-

“4. A customer may register his complaint pertaining to receipt of unsolicited commercial communication by forwarding such communication to 1909 along with the telephone number or header, as the case may be, and the date of receipt of the unsolicited commercial communication in the following format:-

“the unsolicited commercial communication, XXXXXXXXXX,
Where XXXXXXXXX– is the telephone number or header of the SMS, as the case may be, from which the unsolicited commercial communication has originated.

Explanation: The telephone number or header and the date of receipt of the unsolicited commercial SMS may be appended with such SMS, while forwarding to 1909, with or without space after comma.”

Note 11: The Explanatory Memorandum explains the objects and reasons of The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Tenth Amendment) Regulations, 2012 (23 of 2012).
EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India issued the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulation, 2010 (6 of 2010) dated the 1st December, 2010 to provide an effective mechanism for curbing Unsolicited Commercial Communications (UCC). All the provisions of regulations came into force from 27th September 2011. With the implementation of these regulations, the number of complaints relating to UCC has reduced considerably.

2. As per the provisions of current regulations, Access Providers are required to upload the UCC complaints and action taken on such complaints on TCCCP portal www.nccptrai.gov.in, on regular basis. From the data available on TCCCP portal it was seen that most of the complaints lodged by consumers are from numbers who are not registered with the Authority as a telemarketer. Hence, to further tighten the current regulatory framework, TRAI issued a Consultation Paper “Review of The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010” and draft “The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Tenth Amendment) Regulations, 2012” on 3rd August, 2012. Comments received from various stakeholders were uploaded on TRAI website. Open House Discussion on the various issues and proposals was held at Delhi on 10th October, 2012. The comments received from stakeholders during consultation process have been duly considered while framing these regulations.

3. It is observed that unregistered telemarketers generally send bulk promotional SMS as a SMS blast using special equipment and software applications. These applications enable unregistered telemarketers to send a large number of SMS within a short time. Hence, the Authority is of the view that it is technically possible to identify bulk promotional SMS having similar characters or strings or variants. The service providers then could restrict the delivery of such SMSs over their network using technical solutions. In this way, customers sending non-UCC SMS through mobile phones will not be affected by any such restrictions. Similar solution was found to be successful for unsolicited commercial communications from international routes. The Authority has mandated the service providers to implement a solution in their networks which will not allow sending of more than 200 SMS with similar ‘signature’ in one hour from any source or number, other than from a registered telemarketer or transactional message sending entity or a number exempted by the Authority.

4. Further, it is also noticed that subscribers undertaking telemarketing activities using normal telephone connections use discounted SMS packages available in the market, for sending bulk promotional SMSs. During the consultation, some of the stakeholders have suggested that a differential tariff may be imposed to make it economically unviable for unregistered telemarketers to send commercial communications using ten digit numbers. Such a provision will also encourage unregistered telemarketers to get themselves registered as telemarketer. Accordingly, regulation 20 has been amended mandating the service providers not to allow sending of more than one hundred SMS per day per SIM at a concessional rate. Subscribers can send SMS beyond one hundred SMS per day per SIM. However all such SMSs will be charged at the rate specified in Schedule- XIII of the Telecommunication Tariff Order, 1999.

5. The principal regulations provide that no subscriber, who is not registered with TRAI as a telemarketer shall make any commercial communications. After the implementation of regulations, representations have been received from consumers that they are not aware of such provision of regulation till they receive notice from the service provider. Accordingly, to increase consumer awareness and also to warn subscribers against such activities, Access Providers have been mandated to send SMS to their subscribers on periodic basis advising them not to send any commercial communications if they are not registered with the Authority as a telemarketer and that sending of commercial communication using ten digit numbers shall result in disconnection of telecom resources.

6. Access Providers have been also mandated that at the time of providing a telephone connection, they shall obtain an undertaking from the subscriber that the SIM purchased shall not be used for telemarketing purposes.

7. As per the current provisions of regulations, customers registered on NCPR may lodge a complaint regarding receipt of unsolicited commercial communications through call or SMS to 1909. For complaint through SMS, customer has to send SMS "COMP TEL NO XXXXXXXXXX; dd/mm/yy; Time in hh:mm; short description of Unsolicited Commercial Communication" to 1909, where XXXXXXXXXX - is the telephone number or header of the SMS, from which the UCC has originated. However, representations were received from customers that the process of complaint lodging is time consuming and needs to be simplified.

The Authority considered the representations and accordingly has amended the regulation. For easy lodging of a complaint regarding Unsolicited Commercial SMS, provision has been made for forwarding of such SMS by appending the telephone number or header of the SMS, as the case may be, from which the unsolicited commercial communication has originated and date of receipt of such SMS to 1909.
For example, if a NCPR registered customer received a promotional SMS “buy xyz” from a 10 digit number 9812345678 on 27th September 2011, he may forward the SMS to 1909 as “buy xyz, 9812345678, 27/09/11” for registration of UCC complaint. This will obviate the need for inputting the contents of the SMS for complaining through SMS.

Further, to broaden the options available for consumers to lodge UCC complaints with their service providers, the regulation has also mandated Access Providers to establish a web based UCC complaint lodging system and a dedicated email address to enable the consumers to lodge UCC related complaints.
New Delhi, the 24th May, 2013

No.311-23/2013-QoS - In exercise of powers conferred by section 36, read with sub-clause (v) of clause (b) and clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 11, of the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India Act, 1997 (24 of 1997), the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India hereby makes the following regulations to further amend the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 (6 of 2010), namely:--

(e) clause (ac) shall be numbered as clause (zc);

(f) clause (ad) shall be numbered as clause (zd);

(g) clause (ae) shall be numbered as clause (ze);

(h) clause (af) shall be numbered as clause (zf);

3. After regulation 20A of the principal regulations, the following regulation shall be inserted, namely:

“20B. Transactional SMS charge – (1) The transactional SMS charge shall be Re. 0.05 (paisa five only):

Provided that there shall be no transactional SMS charge on,

(i) any message transmitted by or on the directions of the Central Government or State Government;
(ii) any message transmitted by or on the directions of bodies established under the Constitution;
(iii) any message transmitted by or on the directions of the Authority;
(iv) any message transmitted by any agency authorized by the Authority from time to time;
(2) The Originating Access provider may collect the transactional SMS charge from the registered telemarketer or from the transactional message sending entity or its agency, as the case may be.”

Note 12: The Explanatory Memorandum explains the objects and reasons of Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Eleventh Amendment) Regulations, 2013 (05 of 2013).
1. The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India issued the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulation, 2010 (6 of 2010) dated the 1st December, 2010 to provide an effective mechanism for curbing Unsolicited Commercial Communications (UCC).

2. The principal regulations provide a framework for sending transactional messages, wherein an entity can only send a transactional message through a registered telemarketer or through the service provider. In the Seventh Amendment to the principal regulations, the Authority has prescribed a promotional SMS charge of 5 paise per SMS.

3. During examination of the need for determining the termination charge on SMSs on a cost based basis, the Authority has also collected inter-operator SMS traffic data. While analyzing the data, it has been noted that apart from the promotional SMS, the transactional SMS also contribute in a major way in creating large traffic imbalance between different networks. In case of Application to Person (Promotional and transactional) SMSs, the institution/enterprise/advertising agencies, are having commercial agreement with one or more service providers, either directly or through a registered telemarketer. As is evident from Table 1, the flow of A2P SMS traffic is unbalanced (some of the service providers are originating more A2P SMSs), leading to loading of resources of the terminating operators. Therefore, the Authority has decided that similar to the Promotional SMS charge prescribed for promotional SMSs, 5 paise per SMS should be prescribed for transactional SMSs also. Provision has been made in the regulations to exempt government agencies from the transactional SMS charge.

(b) clause (b) of sub-regulation(11) of regulation 19 of these regulations shall come into force after 30 days from the date of their publication in the official Gazette.

2. In regulation 13 of the principal regulations, in sub-regulation (2), after clause (e), the following clause shall be inserted namely:-

“(ea) the date of blacklisting of the subscriber under sub-regulation (3) of regulation 18;”

3. For regulation 18 of the principal regulations, the following regulation shall be substituted, namely:-

“18. Blacklisting of telemarketer.—(1) The National Telemarketer Register shall, inter alia, include a blacklist of telemarketers and a blacklist of subscribers.

(2) The name and address of a telemarketer shall be entered into the black list upon, ---
(a) failure to furnish the additional security amount as agreed to by it in the agreement entered into with the Originating Access Provider; or

(b) upon service of the sixth notice, in a calendar year, by any Access Provider, on such telemarketer for sending unsolicited commercial communication.

Explanation: It is clarified that for the purpose of determining the sixth notice, notices served by any Access Provider on such telemarketer will be cumulatively reckoned.

(3) The name and address of a subscriber shall be entered into the blacklist of subscriber as specified under sub-regulation (11) of regulation 19.

(4) The name and address of a telemarketer entered into the blacklist under sub-regulation (2) and the name and address of subscriber entered into blacklist under sub-regulation (3) shall not be deleted before completion of two years from the date of entry in the respective registers.

(5) The agency maintaining the National Telemarketer Register shall, immediately on entering into the name and address of a telemarketer or subscriber under sub-regulation (2) or sub-regulation (3), communicate the name and address of such telemarketers or subscribers to all the Access Providers.

(6) Every Access Provider shall on receipt of intimation under sub-regulation (5) shall, within twenty four hours, disconnect all the telecom resources provided to the subscriber or the telemarketer as the case may be.

(7) No Access Provider shall provide any telecom resource to a telemarketer or subscriber, whose name appears in the blacklist.

4. In regulation 19 of the principal regulations, for sub-regulation (11), the following sub-regulation shall be substituted, namely:-
“(11) If after investigation under sub-regulation (8), the Originating Access Provider finds that the unsolicited commercial communication has originated from a subscriber who is not registered as a telemarketer with the Authority, it shall

(a) disconnect all the telecom resources allotted to subscriber; and

(b) enter the name and address of such subscriber into the blacklist maintained under regulation 18:

Provided that a subscriber whose telecom resources have been disconnected, may file a complaint with the Originating Access Provider under the provisions of “The Telecom Consumers Complaint Redressal regulations, 2012 (1 of 2012)”.

5. After regulation 19 of the principal regulations, the following regulation shall be inserted, namely:-

“19A. Examination of disconnection of telecom resources.------The Authority may, if it considers expedient so to do or on receipt of complaint, call for the details of the disconnection of the telecom resources made by the Access Provider under sub-regulation (11) of regulation 19 and upon examination, for reasons to be recorded, the Authority may direct the Access Provider to restore all the telecom resources of a subscriber and delete the name and address of such subscriber from the blacklist.”

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India issued the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulation, 2010 (6 of 2010) dated the 1st December, 2010 to provide an effective mechanism for curbing Unsolicited Commercial Communications (UCC). These regulations have been amended from time to time to tighten the regulatory framework and also for addressing implementation issues.

2. As per the provisions of these regulations, Access Providers are required to upload the UCC complaints and action taken on such complaints on the TCCCP portal www.nccptrai.gov.in, on a regular basis. From the data available on the TCCCP portal, it was seen that most of the complaints lodged by consumers are from subscribers who are not registered with the Authority as a telemarketer. Hence, to further tighten the current regulatory framework and to address the menace of UCC from unregistered telemarketers, TRAI issued a Consultation Paper on the “Review of The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010” and a draft “The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Tenth Amendment) Regulations, 2012” on 3rd August, 2012. Comments received from various stakeholders were uploaded on the TRAI website. Open House Discussion on the various issues and proposals was held at Delhi on 10th October, 2012. The comments received from stakeholders during consultation process were considered and TRAI had issued “The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Tenth Amendment) Regulations, 2012” and Telecommunication Tariff (Fifty Fourth Amendment) Order, 2012 on 5th November 2012 prescribing certain measures to address the menace of unsolicited commercial SMS from normal subscribers.

3. It is observed now, through monitoring of complaints in the TCCCP portal that UCC by normal subscribers who have not registered with the Authority as a telemarketer, has increased considerably in recent times. The Authority has also observed that such unregistered Telemarketers deliberately masquerade themselves as normal subscribers for indulging in telemarketing activities by using cheap Special Tariff Vouchers. Such subscribers, without any such rights, avoid payment of promotional or any other tariff (or deposits) as may be payable by registered telemarketers. They also circumvent the process laid down by the Authority for registration of telemarketers and the procedures for telemarketing by registered telemarketers. Such unregistered Telemarketers acting in the guise of normal subscribers indulge in sending unsolicited commercial communications to even customers registered in NCPR, for not receiving unsolicited commercial communications. This has been a major irritant and inconvenience to such customers who have preferred not to receive unsolicited commercial communications. These regulations seek to address this menace.

4. The regulations prescribe that in case a valid complaint is received against a subscriber regarding sending of UCC, the originating service provider shall disconnect all the telecom resources allotted to him. However, before disconnecting the telecom resources of such subscribers, the service provider has to investigate and analyse the complaint in accordance with sub-regulation (8) of regulation 19.

5. It is also understood that presently even after disconnection of the telecom resources of such unregistered Telemarketers, they continue to take subsequent connections and tend to continue the telemarketing activities. For addressing the menace of UCC by such telemarketing subscribers who have not registered with the Authority as a telemarketer, the regulations have for the first time prescribed a separate blacklist for subscribers whose telecom resources were disconnected for sending UCC. Once the telecom resources are disconnected, the name and address of such subscriber shall be entered into the blacklist of subscribers and it shall not be deleted before completion of two years from the date of entry in the National Telecom Register. Further, the agency maintaining such register has to communicate the name and address of such blacklisted subscriber to all the access providers. On receipt of such intimation, all
Access Providers have to disconnect the telecom resources provided by it to such subscriber within twenty four hours. No Access Provider shall provide any telecom resource such subscriber, whose name appears in the blacklist. The subscriber whose resources have been disconnected may file a complaint to the Complaint Center of his Access Provider, and subsequently to the Appellate Authority of his Access Provider, if the subscriber is not satisfied with the complaint redressal. The Authority feels that the measures prescribed in these regulations will be effective in addressing the menace of UCC by unregistered Telemarketers who act in the guise of a normal subscriber. Provision exists in the regulation for complaining to the Authority, in case of a wrong blacklisting.

NOTIFICATION

New Delhi, the 22nd August, 2013

THE TELECOM COMMERCIAL COMMUNICATIONS CUSTOMER
PREFERENCE (THIRTEENTH AMENDMENT) REGULATIONS, 2013
(10 OF 2013)

No.311-27/2013-QoS- In exercise of powers conferred by section 36, read with sub-clause(v) of clause (b) and clause (c) of sub-section (1), of section 11 of the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India Act, 1997 (24 of 1997), the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India hereby makes the following regulations to further amend the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 (6 of 2010), namely:-

1. (1) These regulations may be called the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Thirteenth Amendment) Regulations, 2013.

(2)(a) Except as otherwise provided in clause (b), these regulations shall come into force from the date of their publication in the official Gazette.

(b) Sub-regulation (4) and clause (b) of sub-regulation (11) of regulation 19 of these regulations shall come into force after 15 days from the date of their publication in the official Gazette.

2. In regulation 19 of the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 (6 of 2010) (hereinafter referred to as the principal regulations),---

(a) in sub-regulation (4), for the words “brief description of such unsolicited commercial communication” appearing after the words “the date and” and before the words “as specified in Schedule VI to these regulations”, the words “brief description of such unsolicited commercial communication alongwith the details of the person on whose behalf and the telephone number on which the commercial transaction has been solicited” shall be substituted;

(b) for sub-regulation (11), the following sub-regulation shall be substituted, namely:-

“(11) If after investigation under sub-regulation (8), the originating Access Provider finds that the unsolicited commercial communication ----

(a) has originated from a subscriber who is not registered as a telemarketer with the Authority, it shall----

(i) disconnect all telecom resources allotted to such subscriber; and

(ii) enter the name of such subscriber into the black list maintained under regulation 18;

(b) has solicited commercial transaction on behalf of a person either on the same mobile number or a different telephone number, it shall,----
(i) if the subscriber of the telephone number or the person or both, referred to in clause (b), belongs to his network, issue notice separately to such subscriber or person, other than the subscriber making unsolicited commercial communications referred under clause (a), directing them to discontinue sending such communication; and

(ii) in case such telephone number and the person belongs to a different service provider, forward the details of such unsolicited commercial communication to that service provider who shall issue notice to the subscriber of such telephone number and to the person, referred to in clause (b), directing him to discontinue sending such communication:

Provided that more than one complaint, pertaining to similar unsolicited commercial communication, sent on a particular date, shall be treated as a single complaint:

Provided further that if, after the second notice to a subscriber under sub-clause (i) and (ii) of clause (b), a complaint is received against such subscriber, the service provider shall disconnect all telecom resources of that subscriber:

Provided also that a subscriber, whose telecom resources have been disconnected, may file a complaint with the originating Access Provider under the provisions of the Telecom Consumers Complaint Redressal Regulations, 2012 (1 of 2012).”

3. In regulation 20 of the principal regulations, in sub-regulation(2), after clause (o), the following clause shall be inserted, namely:-

“(p) every Access Provider shall submit to the Authority, by the 15th day of every month, the details of all bulk connections provided by it to the subscriber during the previous calendar month.”

4. In regulation 22 of the principal regulations, after sub-regulation (1), the following sub-regulation shall be inserted, namely:-

“(1A) -If the Authority finds that an unsolicited commercial communication has been sent by a subscriber who is not registered with the Authority as telemarketer, the originating Access Provider of such subscriber shall, without prejudice to the terms and conditions of its licence, or the Act or rules or regulations or orders made, or, directions issued, thereunder, be liable to pay an amount, by way of financial disincentive, not exceeding five thousand rupees for every such complaint, as the Authority may, by order, direct:

Provided that no order for payment of any amount by way of financial disincentive shall be made by the Authority unless the Access Provider has been given a reasonable opportunity of representing against such order of the Authority.

Note 14: The Explanatory Memorandum explains the objects and reasons of Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Thirteenth Amendment) Regulations, 2013 (10 of 2013).
EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. Unsolicited Commercial Communications (UCCs) in the form of SMSs or voice calls to promote commercial activity are a widespread irritant experienced by telecom customers.

2. In 2009-10, TRAI reviewed the regulatory framework for controlling UCCs and, on 1st December 2010, issued “The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010”. These regulations provided for:
   a. Mandatory registration of telemarketers with TRAI after payment of a one-time fee of Rs 10,000/-;
   b. Enabling consumers to block receiving of promotional messages by registering their number in the National Consumer Preference Register (NCPR);
   c. Requiring telemarketers not to send messages to those customers who specifically elect not to receive such messages by registering in NCPR; and
   d. Deduction from the security deposit of registered telemarketers who breach the provisions of the regulations by sending commercial messages to the customers registered in NCPR.

3. The aforesaid provisions were made in the regulations with the aim that if all telemarketers registered themselves with the Authority and the consumers electing not to receive promotional commercial messages register themselves in NCPR, the menace of UCCs would be controlled. However, subsequent events proved otherwise. Though some did register as telemarketers, many others chose to continue operating as telemarketers without registering themselves as such. That is, most of those sending UCCs, operated beyond the pale of TRAI’s regulations; they obtained multiple SIMs as “normal subscribers” and made calls or sent out messages (SMSs) in bulk as UCCs to other telecom subscribers.

4. The UCC menace persisted leading consumers to complain about the number of UCCs being received. At various points of time, the Authority has responded to consumers’ concerns by intervening through Regulations and Directions to curb the problem. The significant measures taken by the Authority are as under:

   (i) Stopping UCCs sent through international routes: It was found that commercial messages without proper headers or telephone numbers were being sent through servers located outside the country. To address this problem, a direction dated 20th Jan. 2012 was issued by TRAI directing all Telecom Service Providers (TSPs) and ILD operators to block bulk international SMSs with similar signatures. On account of these measures, unsolicited SMSs sent through the international route were largely checked.

   (ii) Providing a ceiling on the number of SMSs per SIM per day: Since unregistered telemarketers were sending messages in bulk through multiple SIMs the Authority, through an amendment to the regulations dated 5th Sept 2011, prohibited the sending of more than 100 SMS per day per SIM to prevent subscribers who were not registered as telemarketers with TRAI from misusing cheap SMS packs/plans for sending UCCs. This limit was raised to 200 SMS per day per SIM for prepaid customers and 6000 SMS per SIM per month for post-paid customers to accommodate the needs of certain category of subscribers. However, on being challenged, the Hon’ble High Court of Delhi through its decision dated 13th July 2012 quashed the limit imposed by the Authority.

   (iii) Economic deterrent to sending more than 100 SMSs per SIM per day: The Authority decided that there should be a financial deterrent against using normal telephone connections for sending UCCs in the form of SMSs. Accordingly, the Regulation was revised and, through an amendment dated 5th Nov 2012, TSPs were mandated not to allow more than one hundred SMS per day per SIM at a concessional rate.
All SMSs beyond one hundred SMS per day per SIM were to be charged at a rate not lower than 50 paise per SMS.

(iii) Mandating signature verification of bulk SMSs: The Authority found that the unregistered telemarketers were using ‘modem farming’ for sending unsolicited commercial messages. Modem farming refers to the practice of using multiple SIM cards in a single modem to send multiple SMSs. It is technically possible to identify bulk promotional SMSs having similar characters or strings or variants (called ‘signature’) and block them. The Authority through an amendment to the regulations dated 5th Nov 2012, mandated TSPs to put in place technical solutions that restrict the delivery of such SMSs from any source or number over their network.

(v) Enhancing consumer awareness and obtaining an undertaking from subscribers against sending commercial SMSs: To increase consumer awareness and also to warn subscribers against indulging in unauthorised telemarketing activities, through the amendment to the regulations dated 5th Nov 2012, TSPs have been mandated to send SMSs to their subscribers every six months advising them not to send any commercial communications if they are not registered with the Authority as a telemarketer and that sending of commercial communication shall result in disconnection of telecom resources. TSPs have also been mandated that, at the time of providing a telephone connection (or SIM), they shall obtain an undertaking from the subscriber that the SIM purchased shall not be used for telemarketing purposes.

(vi) Making it easy for consumers to file a complaint: The amendment of 5th Nov 2012 has simplified the procedure for filing of a complaint. Consumers receiving UCCs (as SMSs) can register a complaint on 1909 which is common across all TSPs. They can either make a call or send an SMS to 1909. They can also forward the SMS received to 1909 by appending the date and the number from which the UCC was received.

(vii) Disconnection and blacklisting of subscribers who do telemarketing without registering themselves with TRAI: The latest amendments to the Regulations dated the 24th May 2013 mandated all TSPs on receipt of the first complaint, to disconnect telephone numbers from which an UCC has originated. The name and address of that telephone subscriber shall then be shared with all other service providers. No service provider will provide any telecom resource in that name and address for a period of two years.

5. While the Authority’s regulatory interventions have tempered the menace of UCCs, it has not altogether abated. The problem is that UCCs (SMSs or calls) from persons not registered as telemarketers continue to irritate and harass normal subscribers. Such individuals deliberately masquerade themselves as “normal subscribers” even though their primary purpose for obtaining telecom resources is for telemarketing activities. There are a number of reasons why the unregistered telemarketers mask themselves as “normal subscribers”:

   i. Savings in cost of registration: The unregistered telemarketer saves costs by not paying the one time registration fee. It is, therefore, cheaper to remain unregistered.

   ii. Higher promotional SMS charges: There is an additional 5 paise per SMS for every promotional message sent by a registered telemarketer; this additional cost can be avoided by remaining unregistered and masquerading as a normal subscriber.
iii. (Large outreach of potential customers including those registered under NCPR): Registered telemarketers are obliged to abide by TRAI’s regulatory discipline which prescribes outreach to customers registered with the NCPR, no such restriction hampers the unregistered telemarketer, who, as an individual subscriber, can send SMSs or calls to any subscriber including those registered under NCPR. This is why the UCCs are a major irritant and inconvenience to subscribers registered with NCPR.

iv. (TSPs’ eagerness to garner additional revenues): The TSPs are constantly looking for ways to improve their topline and garner additional revenues. There are many TSPs whose networks are underutilized viz. they have excess capacity. To increase capacity use, TSPs have incentives to sell cheap special tariff vouchers for bulk SMS dispatch. This augments TSPs’ revenues and network capacity use. The availability of cheap plans through which bulk SMSs can be sent is an added incentive for unregistered telemarketers.

v. (Engagement of agencies not registered as telemarketers by organizations for marketing): Organizations such as financial institutions (banks, insurance agencies, NBFCs), builders and other entities, acting as principals engage agents to promote their (the principal’s) business. The cost to the principal of engaging an unregistered telemarketer is lower than that of engaging a registered telemarketer. Hence, the preference is to engage unregistered telemarketers precisely because they offer cheaper delivery of promotional services.

6. For the aforesaid reasons there is a tendency to flout the regulations and directions issued by the Authority. Since the unregistered telemarketers are not complying with the directions and regulations issued by the Authority, it has become necessary to make the regulatory framework more stringent, so that not only the unregistered telemarketer, but the TSPs and entities engaging such telemarketers to promote their business are held accountable. All three parties are responsible for the problem of UCC. The TSPs are encouraging such activities by providing attractive SMS packages and allowing bulk/multiple connections fully aware that these will be used for telemarketing activities. In so doing, they are breaching the Customer Acquisition Form (CAF) directives issued by the Department of Telecommunication (the licensor). The proposed new Regulation brings within their ambit the TSPs who provide bulk connections for ‘modem farming’ for sending of bulk UCC messages as also the organizations(principals) which engage unregistered telemarketers (as agents) for promoting the businesses interests of their principals.

7. The Authority is of the view that if the details of the name and address filled by consumer in the Customer Acquisition Form and the documents furnished by him are properly verified by the service provider, the misuse of the service provider’s network for UCC by subscribers not registered as telemarketer can be controlled. TSPs license condition requires that they should ensure that their franchisees/ dealers/agents follow the directions issued by DoT while enrolling a new subscriber. Any failure and negligence on the part of their agents is the responsibility of the TSPs and thus, the Authority is of the view that TSPs are liable for acts and omission of their agents. For bulk mobile connections, physical verification of the subscriber has been made mandatory before activation of the connection. Further, bulk user premises have to be inspected by the TSPs at least once in six months and the TSPs should satisfy themselves about the bonafide use of such facilities as per the license condition. These instructions have been issued to ensure that the misuse of the SIM for unauthorised activities is avoided. It is the duty and responsibility of the TSP to ensure that such misuse does not happen in their network chain. The Authority is of the view that if such procedures are scrupulously followed the misuse of the TSP’s network by the customers for UCC without registering with the Authority can be minimised.
8. Accordingly, the Authority has prescribed that if, on verification of a complaint, it is found that the UCC has been sent by a subscriber who is not registered as a telemarketer, the TSPs shall be liable to pay a financial disincentive for each such complaint.

9. To ensure that the TSPs implement systems for proper checks of the CAFs together with the Proof of Address and Proof of Identity, the Authority has mandated TSPs to submit to the Authority by the 15th day of every month the list of all bulk connections provided during the preceding month.

10. The Authority has also noticed with concern that a large number of complaints received from consumers pertain to calls or messages originated by or on behalf of banks, insurance companies, builders etc. who are promoting their business by engaging unregistered telemarketers in total disregard of the regulations made by the Authority. These organisations, being the principal are equally responsible for the non-compliance of the regulations and directions issued by the Authority to address the problem of UCC. It is the responsibility of these organisations (the principals) to ensure that the telemarketer engaged by them (the agent) for promoting their business either directly or through an intermediary follows all rules and regulations and if such organisation (the agent) fails in this responsibility, they (the principals) are to be held responsible for the acts and omissions of their agents. Hence, in order to make these entities accountable, the Authority has decided to amend the regulations to provide for disconnection of all telecom resources of such organisations if they are found to be engaged in telemarketing through unregistered telemarketers. The Authority is of the view that disconnection of the principal entity's telecom resources will act as a deterrent and inculcate a greater sense of responsibility in these organisations.

11. The issues sought to be addressed through these Regulations and the measures prescribed in these Regulations are a follow-up of the consultations undertaken by the Authority through the Consultation Paper “Review of The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010” and draft “The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Tenth Amendment) Regulations, 2012” issued on 3rd August, 2012. They are also in continuation of the 12th amendment to the TCCCPR 2010, which stipulates action against telemarketers who send UCC. This amendment brings within its ambit the organisations on whose behalf the telemarketing is being carried out as well as prescribes liability for TSPs who sell SIMs to subscribers without ostensibly verifying the credentials of the subscriber.
New Delhi, the 03rd December, 2013

No.311-28/2013-QoS- In exercise of powers conferred by section 36, read with sub-clause(v) of clause (b) and clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 11, of the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India Act, 1997 (24 of 1997), the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India hereby makes the following regulations to further amend the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 (6 of 2010), namely:-

Note 15: The Explanatory Memorandum explains the objects and reasons of Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Fourteenth Amendment) Regulations, 2013 (15 of 2013).
EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. Telecom customers are aggrieved with Unsolicited Commercial Communications (UCCs) in the form of SMSs or voice calls to promote commercial activity for quite a long time. In 2009-10, TRAI reviewed the regulatory framework for controlling UCCs and, on 1st December 2010, issued “The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010”. These regulations have provision for mandatory registration of telemarketers with TRAI after payment of a one-time fee of Rs 10,000/-. These regulations also provided that before taking the telecom resources from service provider, a telemarketer has to deposit initially an amount Rs. 1,00,000/- with service provider as security deposit.

2. The aforesaid provisions were made in the regulations with the aim that if all telemarketers registered themselves with the Authority and the consumers electing not to receive promotional commercial messages register themselves in NCPR, the menace of UCCs would be controlled. However, subsequent events proved otherwise. Though some did register as telemarketers, many others chose to continue operating as telemarketers without registering themselves as such. That is, most of those sending UCCs, operated beyond the pale of TRAI’s regulations; they obtained multiple SIMs as “normal subscribers” and made calls or sent out messages (SMSs) in bulk as UCCs to other telecom subscribers.

3. The UCC menace persisted leading consumers to complain about the number of UCCs being received. At various points of time, the Authority has responded to consumers’ concerns by intervening through Regulations and Directions to curb the problem. The significant measures taken includes Stopping UCCs sent through international routes, Providing a ceiling on the number of SMSs per SIM per day,

Economic deterrent to sending more than 100 SMSs per SIM per day, Mandating signature verification of bulk SMSs, Enhancing consumer awareness and obtaining an undertaking from subscribers against sending commercial SMSs, Making it easy for consumers to file a complaint, Disconnection and blacklisting of subscribers who do telemarketing without registering themselves with TRAI etc.

4. While the Authority’s regulatory interventions have tempered the menace of UCCs, it has not altogether abated. The problem is that UCCs (SMSs or calls) from persons not registered as telemarketers continue to irritate and harass normal subscribers. Such individuals deliberately masquerade themselves as “normal subscribers” even though their primary purpose for obtaining telecom resources is for telemarketing activities.

5. The Authority has noticed with concern that a large number of complaints received from consumers pertain to calls or messages originated by or on behalf of banks, insurance companies, builders etc. who are promoting their business by engaging unregistered telemarketers in total disregard of the regulations made by the Authority. These organisations, being the principal are equally responsible for the non-compliance of the regulations and directions issued by the Authority to address the problem of UCC. Hence, in order to make these entities accountable, the Authority has decided to amend the regulations (13th Amendment) to provide for disconnection of all telecom resources of such organisations if they are found to be engaged in telemarketing through unregistered telemarketers.

6. Authority has noticed that after implementation of The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Thirteenth Amendment) Regulations, 2013 majority of complaints pertaining to entities such as banks, insurance, builders etc. are against those subscribers who were not registered as telemarketers and were making the UCC through their normal 10 digit mobile numbers. Authority has asked all the major erring banks to submit their action taken report in respect of complaint. In response, some of the major banks have submitted that there are small dealers/agents, in their business model, who do not have much incentive to afford the initial security deposit of Rs. 1,00,000/- with service providers for working as a telemarketer. Although, banks assured that they have mandated the condition of registration as telemarketer with TRAI is compulsory for becoming the dealers/agents of bank, however, they also requested to reduce the registration charges and initial security deposit for becoming a telemarketer to motivate and provide the opportunity to these small agents/dealers to do the business in a legitimate manner.

7. Authority has also observed that one of the primary reason for non-registering as telemarketer by such agents/agencies is saving in cost of registration and initial security deposit. Therefore, Authority considered the request and is of the view that unsolicited commercial communication may be significantly reduced if majority of these unregistered callers are registered as telemarketer with TRAI and use the prescribed telemarketing resources for making the commercial calls/SMS. Accordingly, to facilitate and to motivate these agencies/agents to register themselves with TRAI, the Authority reviewed the registration period, registration fee and initial security deposit amount through these regulations.

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India issued The Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulation, 2010 (6 of 2010) dated the 1st December, 2010 to provide an effective mechanism for curbing Unsolicited Commercial Communications (UCC). These regulations have been amended from time to time to tighten the regulatory framework.

2. One of the major provisions of The TCCCP (Thirteenth Amendment) Regulations, 2013, which was issued on 22nd August, 2013, is disconnection of all telecom resources of entities for whom the commercial transactions have been solicited, after second notice.

3. Some of these entities have represented to the Authority requesting for re-connection of their disconnected resources as per the provisions of the TCCCP Regulations, 2010 under regulation 19A of TCCCP Regulations, 2010. The Authority had considered the various measures taken by these entities, by their channel partners, dealers, agents etc. to comply with the regulations. After examination, wherever the Authority was satisfied about such measures, the Authority had ordered reconnection of disconnected telecom resources of such entities, except the resources which were used for originating UCC.

4. To streamline the reconnection procedure for such entities the Authority proposed to levy an administration charge and draft “Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Fifteenth Amendment) Regulations, 2014 was posted on 29/1/2014 on the TRAI’s web site for comments of the stakeholders by 12th February, 2014. Through these draft amendment Regulations, the Authority has proposed to levy a charge of Rs.500/- per telecom resource for reconnection of resources of entities on whose behalf commercial transaction were found to be solicited. Comments were received from 12 stakeholders, (7 from TSPs; 2 from insurance companies; 2 from TSP association; 1 from other organization).

5. Most of the stakeholders were in favour of levying a charge for reconnection of resources of entities on whose behalf commercial transaction was found to be solicited. The stakeholders have suggested levying a charge varying from Rs. 500/- to Rs. 5000/- per connection. Accordingly, the Authority is of the view that administrative charges may be levied. However, since the charges are intended to meet the administrative costs and also to create further deterrent against misuse of telecom resources should be reasonable. Hence the Authority has decided that an administrative charge @ Rs. 500/- per telecom resource, subject to maximum of Rs. 5,00,000/- may be levied for reconnection of disconnected telecom resources, other than the telephone connection from which UCC has originated.

6. Some of the stakeholders have suggested that the Regulation should specify a defined time-limit within which the affected entities can approach TRAI for restoration. Some of the service providers also suggested that the disconnected resources of entities on whose behalf UCC were made (except those telecom resources from which UCC were made) should be kept under suspension for a specified period. This will facilitate retention of the telephone numbers of the entity and quick restoration of telecom resources for the entity, if the Authority decides restoration of the resources. The Authority considered the suggestion and is of the view that giving time limit for approaching TRAI could enable the entities to take corrective action in a time bound manner. The Authority has observed that in case of restoration, service providers have to allocate the same telephone numbers to those entities. Therefore, defining a time limit for such restoration will help the service provider to reserve disconnected telephone numbers for a defined time period. Hence, the Authority has decided that disconnected entities can approach TRAI within thirty days from the date of disconnection of their telecom resources. The service provider should not allocate such disconnected telephone numbers to any other person or entity for such reasonable period to facilitate the restoration.
No.311-35/2014-QoS- In exercise of powers conferred by section 36, read with sub-clause (v) of clause (b) and clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 11, of the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India Act, 1997 (24 of 1997), the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India hereby makes the following regulations to further amend the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 (6 of 2010), namely:-

Note 17: The Explanatory Memorandum explains the objects and reasons of Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Sixteenth Amendment) Regulations, 2014 (XX of 2014).
EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India issued the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulation, 2010 (6 of 2010) (TCCCP Regulation) dated the 1st December, 2010 to provide an effective mechanism for curbing Unsolicited Commercial Communications (UCC). These regulations have been amended from time to time to tighten the regulatory framework.

2. One of the provisions of The TCCCP Regulations, 2010, is that service providers are not allowed to provide the incoming call or SMS facility on the telecom resources being used for sending the transactional message.

3. There have been a number of representations from various stakeholders requesting Authority for allowing a two way communication facility for transactional messages. The stakeholders have claimed that they have developed many applications, which requires two -way or interactive communication through SMS between users or between users and application. Various ILD service providers have also requested the Authority to allow carrying international transactional messages from international entities.

4. As per the existing provisions of the regulations, header for sending the transactional message has been specified in form of “XY-ABCDEF” (all alpha characters). Due to limitation of existing systems two way communications through alpha headers is not feasible and it has to be numeric header to support such two-way messaging.

5. The Authority has considered all such requests of all application providers, access providers, ILD operators and users and decided that there is a definite requirement for a two-way interactive SMS transactional communication because of various user friendly applications. Hence, there is a need to review the existing provisions of the regulations to allow such two way interactive SMS with sufficient safeguards.

6. The Authority is also of the view that telemarketers and ILD operators registered as telemarketers will be able to make two way communications if access providers allocate short codes starting with 5 as an header for such transactional messages. Accordingly, the regulations have been amended.

7. To ensure suitable safeguards, the penalties for such transactional messages with two way communications are double than that for normal transactional messages. Also in case of transactional messages by international entities carried by various entities, provisions have been made for additional penalties on these entities for violations.
